Dear Parents & Carers,

This week our Y5/6 pupils took part in an Anglo-Saxon workshop. While learning about the Dark Ages the children were able to handle artefacts and pose questions. I was so pleased to receive excellent feedback from the team delivering the workshop; they were very impressed by our pupils' knowledge and their carefully considered questions.

Today a small group of our pupils accompanied by Mrs. McKrell have spent some time attending to the planters that our school take care of outside Didsbury Library. We hope that the flowers and plants will add a pop of colour during the winter months.

Next week is anti-bullying week. The theme for the week is 'make some noise about bullying'. Through our assemblies and PSHE lessons we will be exploring the theme. Odd Socks Day launches the week, so we would like to encourage everyone to wear odd socks on Monday to show our commitment to tackle bullying.

Today we are saying goodbye to Mr. McCarthy who has been a TA in our Acorn class for the last few years. We would like to wish him every success in his new school in his new role as a HLTA. On Monday we will welcome a new member to our Acorn team, Miss. McQuillan, and we are looking forward to working with her and welcoming her to Broad Oak.

Finally, last week we held our Parents' Evenings on Wednesday and Thursday. If you were unable to attend, please speak to your child's teacher if you would like to arrange an appointment.

Best Wishes
Kevin Corteen.

We would love you to participate in this with us on Saturday and you will also be welcome to join us afterwards for a complimentary tea or coffee in the cafe in the park.

The Act of Remembrance begins with the playing of the 'last post' at 11am.

We've had a visitor in EYFS! This week, we met Harry the horse and had the opportunity to say hi and give him a stroke.

In year 5 and 6, throughout October, we have been celebrating Black History Month. As part of our learning, we looked at the author Malorie Blackman. She is a successful British author, who has wrote books such as 'Nougats and Crosses'. Growing up she found that in lots of many of the lead roles were white characters so all the books she writes have black characters at the heart of them.

Malorie Blackman is a Black British author who was born in London 1962 along with her 4 siblings. She and her parents moved from a tropical island called Barbados to London in the UK. She is a famous black author and her most popular book was called Nougats and Crosses. She also wrote (Pig heart boy, Hacker, Thief and burst in). As a young child Malorie loved to read she loved it so much that she read every book in her local library and only one book in that library featured a black person or mentioned a black culture. Her Malorie Blackman was an OBE (Order of the British Empire) awarded her by Prince Charles (who is now the current king) for every thing she has done for their country. She wanted to become a writer but after she got a job as a computer scientist. Malorie has wrote over 60 books for children and adults. She is 61 years old. Millions of people look up to her as role model and she plans to write more books in the future.

Malorie Blackman

Malorie Blackman was born London, 1962 and when she was young she dreamed of becoming a teacher. All her family were from the Caribbean (Barbados). By the time she was eleven years of age, she had read all the children books in her local library. Her love of reading was for fiction, tales, myths, legends and magical stories. When she grew older she really realised how much people with colour were discriminated. When she went to a local bookshop the only book that had a black child on it, was called Thief in the Village by James Berry.

Many years later, she found a hobby in computer coding and helped her dad get out of jail (which he was wrongly accused).
